Dear Hiring Manager

I am writing to express my sincere interest in the Junior Web Developer position. As a recent graduate of Full Stack Developer courses, I am excited to apply my acquired knowledge and expertise in this role.

My web development experience has provided me with a comprehensive understanding of various programming languages, including JS, PHP, SQL, and modern frameworks such as React and Laravel. My technical proficiency, coupled with a strong understanding of current industry trends and best practices, will enable me to make meaningful contributions towards your company's objectives.

In addition to my theoretical knowledge, I have gained valuable practical experience through various web development projects. I created a website using Bootstrap to teach the Luxembourgish language, which facilitated my understanding of website creation and optimization. During my Full Stack Developer courses, I gained practical experience in creating responsive websites using cutting-edge development tools, which will prove beneficial to your company's goals.

I am confident that my skill set and passion for web development make me an ideal fit for this role. You can find my code on GitHub and a collection of my works on my personal website, which showcases my abilities and skill set.

I am excited about the prospect of joining your team and contributing to your continued success. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

ARSEN TURELYK
